

PREDICTED NEW AMERICAN WOMAN

Speaker Deplores the Passing of The Family Hearth in America.

IS ELOQUENT SPEAKER

Dr. Charles J. Smith Pleases Audience at Woman's League Evening Session in Brua Chapel.

Deploping the gradual dying away of the family hearth life in this country in which so many of the young people were taught the principles of right and wrong, Dr. Charles J. Smith, president of Roanoke College, Salem, Virginia, in a forceful address before the third session of the Woman's League in Brua Chapel, Thursday evening, expressed the belief that with the passing of that institution there has grown the spirit of the new American woman in the home.

Brua Chapel was comfortably filled for the occasion and the session was attended by many town people. Mrs. W. A. Hanson, president of the League presided. After a selection by the College orchestra, Rev. J. B. Baker gave the invocation. Mrs. C. F. Stifel, of Pittsburgh, first president of the Woman's League fourteen years ago, was then introduced and outlined the origin and growth of the present league.

Growth of League

She traced the growth from the inception of the idea in Pittsburgh when a league was formed with twenty members until the present time when there are thirteen leagues with 2121 members. She told of the formulation of the plans for a Y. M. C. A. building at the 1915 convention of the League and that a sum of $30,000 was to be raised for the erection of a building. Many circumstances prevented the completion of the work as soon as planned, she said, and now that the building is actually under construction at a cost of twice the amount first planned, she pointed out that the work of the Woman's League had just started.

J. F. Dapp, president of the Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College, was then called upon and briefly expressed the confidence the Board had in the work of the women and hoped that now the Y. M. C. A. was finished, that they would not stop but keep doing other things for the college.

Mrs. Hanson then introduced Pres-

FATHER UNABLE TO SAVE LITTLE SON

Former Resident of Gettysburg Watched Son Daily But Accident Occurred.

Fearing that his little motherless boy would be injured on his way to school, K. F. Ramer, Harrisburg, formerly a resident of Gettysburg, for the past two months watched his son, Francis, going to school to see if the little fellow obeyed his instructions to be careful when crossing the streets. Thursday the inevitable happened. Francis, aged seven, was run down by a car in that city and lies in the Harrisburg hospital in a critical condition from his injuries. Little hope is held out for his recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Martin, Baltimore street, and Mrs. Margaret Ramer, Chambersburg street, are great-grandparents of the little boy who was the thirty-fifth victim killed or injured on the streets of Harrisburg since October 1. His father, K. F. Ramer, formerly lived in Gettysburg, but moved to Harrisburg about ten years ago.

William Townsen, driver of the car that struck the little boy, was held at the police station, but later was released on his own recognizance to appear when wanted.

HUNTED GERMAN AS HE DID BEARS

Sergeant Woodfill, Infantry Hero, Stalked Hun. Likes Big Game.

SON OF PIONEER FAMILY

Effort May Be Made to Have Commission of Captain Restored. "Model Husband" Wife Declares.

That Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, stationed here in 1917, who has been proclaimed the hero of heroes among the American Expeditionary Forces during the World War by General Pershing, stalked Germans as he hunted bears in Alaska is the story told about the man in his home town, Madison, Illinois. Suddenly this unassuming veteran of the army has become famous. While the bravery of other men were heralded, he returned to the United States unnoticed until he was selected as the man to represent the infantry at the Armistice Day ceremonies when the body of an unknown soldier is buried at Arlington.

According to dispatches from Madison Sergeant Woodfill is a descendant of the pioneers of that state.

Samuel, who is about forty two years old, was born in Monroe township and is the son of Samuel and Christian Woodfill. His mother's maiden name was Custer.

He attended the common school near his country home and, according to cousins who still live near Bellevue, was neither "particularly good nor brilliant." As a young man he developed a liking for the army and enlisted in the regular army at Louisville. His father died soon afterward and his mother within the past year.

As a private soldier, Woodfill saw service in Alaska and the Philippines, where, according to his own story, his favorite recreation was hunting "big game."

"And in France I stalked Germans the same way I stalked the 'big game.'"

Park to be Made Most Attractive Spot in Upper Adams County. Association Formed.

At the initial meeting of the Arendtsville Lutheran and Reformed Association held Thursday evening at the residence of P. S. Orner, the purchase of Heiges' Grove consummated and P. S. The Association unanimously agreed the name of the place should be "Arendtsville Union Park."

During the summer when it was learned the grove, much used by the people of Arendtsville was about to be sold, steps were taken to purchase it by the community and a large sum of money collected. At the meeting Thursday night a committee was named to see all persons interested in the project who had not made subscriptions. These subscriptions are to be made payable March 1, 1922.

The Association is meeting today for laying plans to improve the park and make arrangements for a volunteer party to be held November 11, at which time all persons interested will be urged to turn out with their teams and service for grading and improving the ground in general. MILLION DOLLAR FIRE FOR ERIE

Piers And Water Front at Weehawken Laid Waste By Flames.

(By Associated Press) Weehawken, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Erie Railroad's Weehawken piers and water front yards were laid waste early today by one of the most spectacular fires the metropolitan area has witnessed in years.

Five piers, all heavily laden with freight, a five-story flour warehouse, thirty loaded barges, a train of loaded freight cars and another of five oil tanks were destroyed.

Early estimates of the loss range from $1,000,000 up. A strong breeze which fanned the flames carried burning embers across the river, showering them down on the New York water front and carrying some as far as Times Square.

Crews of several steamships on the Manhattan side were called out to quench great clusters of blazing embers that rained down on the ships.

RED CROSS CARES FOR YOUNG HIKERS

Two Brooklyn Boys Stranded in Gettysburg on Way to Coast.

That transcontinental hiking is not a pleasant pastime for young boys, especially in cool fall weather, is the opinion of Abe Goldberg, 15, and Edward Mone, 16, of Brooklyn, who have been under the care of the local Red Cross for the past two days. Funds have been secured with which tickets for the young men will be purchased.

Several weeks ago these youths, tired of city life and out of work, decided to hike to Fresno, California, where a brother of Mone lives. All went well for a time and the boys found friends along the road. After sleeping out in the open a night or two, they were ready to return home when they landed in Gettysburg and sought the aid of the Red Cross.

Mone's father was reached and he forwarded enough money to send his son to Brooklyn and today the five Jewish merchants of Gettysburg contributed sufficient funds to purchase a ticket for young Goldberg. Although tired of hiking, the boys are not anxious to go back to Brooklyn.

SENATE ORDERS HANGINGS PROBE

New Resolution Passed to Get Witnesses And Documents.

CHARGES ARE EXPLAINED

Senator Watson Says They Are Based on Statements of Soldier Who Saw Gallows.

(By Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 4.—A new resolution ordering a special committee to investigate the charges of Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, regarding treatment of privates in the American Expeditionary Forces was adopted unanimously today by the Senate after a two hour wrangle.

The Senate also adopted unanimously another resolution by Senator Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut, chairman of the special committee authorizing the committee to subpoena witnesses and documents, but left unsettled the question as to the exact charges of Senator Watson which were to be investigated.

Senator Watson told the Senate today that his charges that 21 American soldiers were hanged in France without trial had been based on statements of a soldier who said he had seen the gallows and had been told by the scaffold guard that this number of men had been hanged.

The Georgia Senator read a telegram from this soldier, whose name was not disclosed, saying that the gallows was at Giersey, France, and that the guard had told him other men were to be hanged on it. That was the number I said, declared Senator Watson referring to the number mentioned in the telegram.

"That is the information on which I base my statement." The Georgia Senator declared that this soldier, who he said had served four years in army, would face the Senate and answer any questions as bravely as he faced the Germans.

BLASTS HOPE OF ALLIED LEAGUE

Harvey Tells Liverpool Audience Such An Alliance Is Impossible.

POLICY IS FIXED BY U. S.

Say First President Declared Foreign Attitude of The United States Clearly And Unequivocally.

Liverpool, Nov. 4—George Harvey, the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, told an audience at the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce last night that it was futile to hope that America, as Lord Derby recently had been suggesting, may some day be merged in a definite alliance with Great Britain and France.

This statement was made as a digression from an address on economics and the international industrial situation, in which the American Ambassador attacked communism and socialism and defended the principle of individualism.

In his digression Ambassador Harvey recalls Lord Derby's statement in a recent address in Birmingham in which the latter voiced the conviction that the success of the Washington Limitation of Armaments Conference would mean peace and that its failure would mean war in the immediate future. The speaker also recalled Lord Derby's suggestion to former President Poincaré of France at a dinner last Tuesday evening that an Anglo-French alliance would be desirable in the interests of peace, intimating the "strong hope" that America might eventually join the combination.

Lot to Dispel Illusions

"Now it seems to have fallen to my unhappy lot since I have been in England," continued Ambassador Harvey, "to dispel illusions respecting the attitude of the United States. I can conceive of no more effective service on the part of an envoy, desirous as I am of eliminating all causes for misapprehension, than to set forth frankly any certainty which may bear upon the immediate future, however disappointing it may be to his hearers. In pursuance of this policy, rightful or wrongful as it may be, I feel impelled to say frankly that the hope voiced by Lord Derby must be regarded as futile.

"Our first President fixed the foreign policy of the United States clearly and unequivocally when he adjured his countrymen never to enter a permanent alliance with any other power. This policy has been reaffirmed by practically all of his successors. It was reiterated with great positiveness in our latest national campaign by our present President and was confirmed by a majority of the people so great as to be beyond the pale of comparison.

An Utter Impossibility

"In view of these circumstances, am I doing more than stating the wholly obvious and inescapable fact, when I pronounce the entrance of the United States into any permanent alliance, however desirable that action may seem to be, an utter impossibility? May it not be, then, the part of wisdom to avoid discussion or even suggestion of a proposal which, however praiseworthy it may be, could hardly serve any purpose other than to feed enemies and distress friends of both Great Britain and France who live in America?"

Ambassador Harvey, in dealing with the subject of world economics, said the aftermath of the war was hardly less disconcerting and devastating than was the war itself.

ORDERS SURVEY OF COAL STOCKS

Hoover to Have Questionnaires Sent All Bituminous Consumers.

Washington, Nov. 4—A survey of the stocks of coal on hand throughout the country has been begun by the Commerce Department, Secretary Hoover announced yesterday. Similar surveys, he said would be made every 60 days, as it was believed, in view of the approaching bi-annual discussion of wages by miners and operators, it was "vital" that the country should know the amount of coal it had above ground. It was hoped, he added, to complete the first survey and publish a preliminary report within 30 days.

The survey, Mr. Hoover continued, was "being conducted by means of questionnaires sent to many consumers of bituminous coal inquiring as to their stocks on November 1." "Soft coal production up to October 1," he said, "was 112,000,000 tons behind last year and from 75,000,000 to 90,000,000 tons below normal. The decrease is, in part, to be expected because of a decline in consumption and in exports and it does not necessarily mean that consumers are unwisely burning up their reserves. But if there is any possibility that the above-ground reserves are below the safety lines, the best way to settle the point, the Government thinks, is to take account of stocks and lay all the facts before the public."

Smoot Launches Sales Tax Fight

The fight for the sales tax was launched yesterday by Senator Smoot, after the tax revision measure had been perfected with committee and individual amendments disposed of. Proponents of the sales levy said they went into the fight with 40 votes pledged for their plan.

The plan presented to the Senate proposed a manufacturers' and producers' tax of 1 per cent of the sale prices of every commodity sold, leased or licensed for consumption or use without further process of manufacture. This tax would not apply to sales, leases or licenses made during any year in which the total price for which the taxable sales, leases or licenses were made did not exceed $6,000, nor to sales of refined gold or silver.

The Smoot proposal provided for a graduated corporation tax of from 10 to 15 per cent and for repeal next January 1 of the existing taxes on all transportation, including telephone, telegraph, cable and radio; on soft drinks; on admissions and dues; the special excises or nuisance taxes, and also stamp taxes.

Marital Income Change Cut Out

Prior to taking up the sales tax the Senate adopted an amendment by Senator Broussard, Democrat, Louisiana, striking out a committee amendment providing that income received by any marital community should be included in the gross income of the spouse having the management and control of such community property, and should be taxed as the income of such spouse.

Senators from Louisiana and eight Western states contended that the committee amendment would overturn laws in their States, which provide that the wife shall have title to one-half of the family property.

LONDON CALLS PREMIER CRAIG

Will Discuss Specific Plans Submitted by Sinn Fein Delegates.

London, Nov. 4—Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, has accepted the Government's invitation, dispatched Wednesday, to come to London and consult it as to Ulster's attitude toward the proposals regarding the Ulster boundary and other questions involved in the Irish settlement plan.

Sir James, it is stated, is coming to London to discuss specific plans submitted to the Government by the Sinn Fein of such a character that the Government thinks them feasible if Ulster agrees to them. These plans do not, however, embody any agreement definitely reached between the Government and the Sinn Fein.

Two Plans Proposed

The Ulster Premier has said throughout that he would not intervene until such an agreement was reached, but has now consented to discuss the provisional proposals.

The Ulster question has been discussed between the Cabinet and the Sinn Fein representatives along the lines of two different plans.

The question is not merely one of the counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh, but of other separable Nationalist districts now under the Northern Parliament in which a plebiscite is being urged, not by counties, but by districts. The result, according to estimates of authorities on the situation, probably would be to give Southern Ireland the city of Londonderry, South Down, South Armagh and parts of Tyrone and Fermanagh. The Ulster view is that this would leave the Northern Parliament with insufficient territory.

WOMEN THANK MEN FOR SERVICES

Students Volunteered Services in Excavation of Basement.

A number of the women representatives of the various leagues now in session at Brua Chapel were present at the chapel services this morning at 7:45, when the President of the League, Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson, expressed the thanks of the Woman's League to the students who aided so materially in the excavation of the basement of the new building.

P. M. Willard, president of the College Y. M. C. A., delivered the response, in which he said that the students desired no thanks for the services they had rendered, but rather that he wished to take the opportunity of thanking the Woman's League for the new building they were erecting.

The foundation of the new building has been laid and the steel frame work has been erected for the first floor. Some of the masonry for the portico of the building has been placed and will soon be ready for the bricklayers. That portion of the basement which is to contain the swimming pool has been concreted. It is expected that work will be pushed throughout the winter and that by graduation time in 1922, the building will be under roof and nearing completion.

MRS. KINDIG SHOULD BE ELECTED

For the first time in the history of Adams County a woman is a candidate for a county office at a general election. Mrs. Emma S. Kindig, of Littlestown, who, as Republican aspirant for director of the poor, received the largest vote polled by any candidate of either party at the recent primaries, now asks for support at the general election next month.

If there is any county office which a woman should be able to fill with satisfaction to all concerned it is the post to which Mrs. Kindig aspires. Our county home registers more than one-half of its entire enrollment as women and children. The touch of a woman's hand in the management of such an institution means everything. Long before women were given the franchise in this state they were appointed to such positions on state charities and for years they have served with credit. We might point to the large number of organizations operated and controlled mainly by women, caring for the unfortunate, providing homes for children, helping those mentally distressed or in need of attention.

But this is the first time that a chance has been given here to adopt this same idea regarding our own county home where just as much sympathy is needed in the care of its occupants as at large state institutions. And our county people should very quickly grasp the opportunity to respond and to elect Mrs. Kindig by a handsome majority.

All who know Mrs. Kindig admire her and appreciate not only the kindly touch which she would contribute to the management of the home and all of its activities, but they also know that she is a practical woman. Much of her life has been spent on a farm and her knowledge of the business end of the county farm, which is a large part of the almshouse proposition, will be of real value to the board of poor directors if our Adams county people are wise enough to elect her. The occupants of the county home are our own people. They deserve the best care that can be given them so that they may be restored to mental and physical vigor, and so that those who are spending their declining years at the home, may pass their days happily.

Mrs. Kindig possesses all the qualifications which are needed for a valuable public official. She merits the support of all, regardless of political affiliation.

HUNTED GERMAN AS HE DID BEARS

game in the islands and bears in Alaska," Woodfill remarked during a visit to Madison recently.

Woodfill reached the rank of captain during the war, but was discharged in 1919 during the reorganization of the army. He re-enlisted immediately as a sergeant. Efforts have been on foot during the last six months to have him re-advanced to a captaincy. Business men of Madison and the county have enlisted the cooperation of Senator Harry S. New, whose grandparents lived in the same community with the Woodfills, before the News moved to North Vernon about 1850.

Sergeant Woodfill was married at Fort Thomas, Ky., some time ago. "He is proclaimed a hero," said his wife. "He is a model husband and he isn't afraid to wash dishes either."

Hidden Hero

Sergeant Samuel Woodfill's light was buried "under a bushel" till General Pershing, digging through rusty files, dragged him into the spotlight. He picks Woodfill as the greatest war hero, even ahead of Alvin York. This Indiana soldier will represent the infantry at the burial of the Unknown Soldier.

CHARLES AN EXILE

Former Emperor Would Be Deprived of All Prerogatives.

Lisbon, Nov. 4.—Arrangements have been completed to receive former Emperor Charles and ex-Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary as exiles on the island of Madeira, according to a telegram received here yesterday from Funchal, chief city of the island.

Budapest, Nov. 4.—Former Emperor Charles would be deprived of royal prerogatives by the terms of a bill prepared by the ministry of justice for introduction in the National Assembly of Hungary yesterday. The measure, which has been approved by the Hungarian cabinet, abolishes the pragmatic sanctions, of imperial edicts or decrees operating as fundamental laws. The right to issue these decrees was held by the Hapsburg family for hundreds of years and it was by virtue of one of them that Maria Theresa ascended the Austrian throne in 1780. The election of a new king would be postponed by the bill until a more favorable date.

WOULD FORM A UNION

To the editor: We recommend that a union be formed of the retailers of gasoline of Adams county, in order to protect small dealers.

In compliance with section 368 approved May 20, 1921, the retailers must report gallons of gas on hand first day of month, gallons purchased during month and amount sold. Instead of the retailer being allowed to make out this report sign it and send in proper check for same, he must go before an officer and be sworn to the report which costs fifty cents.

Now we small dealers selling twenty five gallons a month, make fifty cents and it takes all our profit to pay our affidavit. We do not get one cent for the danger we run in handling the gas. The state should pay this affidavit or the dealers should unite to sell the gas at a profit sufficient to pay the expense of handling it.

When the gasoline books show clearly our purchase of gas each month there can not be any cheating the state out of the tax. But there can be no law made without a blunder.

THIS BEING FATHER AND SON WEEK—

ASKS PRAYER FOR DISARM MEETING

Governor Sproul Pleads For Peace in Armistice Day Proclamation.

LEGAL HOLIDAY IN STATE

Prevention of Wars, Destruction and Bloodshed Aim of Nation in Mighty Effort For Peace.

People of Pennsylvania have been called upon by Governor William C. Sproul to not only observe Armistice Day as a time of thanksgiving for release from the terrors of war, but to concentrate best efforts, spiritual and material, to encourage those in authority in working out the full purposes of the disarmament conference. The Governor, in his proclamation, refers to the fact that November 11 will be the first observance of the day as a legal holiday under the act passed by the Legislature of 1921, and makes an earnest plea for abatement of prejudices and the perpetuation of peace.

The proclamation says in part: Whereas, The 11th day of the eleventh month, called November, marking the anniversary of the end of active hostilities in the greatest war of all history, has been designated by our Legislature as a legal holiday and will be observed as such this year for the first time, and, while under any circumstances the tremendous events which this day commemorates should be recalled by our people and the sacrifices of those who died and those who suffered in the struggle of the ages should be borne in grateful remembrance, there is at this time a particular reason for the public observance of Armistice Day, for we are not only marking it as a memorial of woes now happily past, but we are contemplating it as the beginning of a new era which it is our hope and prayer may be free from the ancient horrors of war. At the invitation of the Chief Executive of our own Nation, there will assemble in our capital city of Washington on Armistice Day a conference, perhaps more fateful in its effects upon the destinies of mankind and civilization than any other assemblage ever planned by man. Designed to arrive at an accommodation of purpose and understanding among the great peoples of the earth to prevent future wars, destruction and bloodshed, by providing for a reduction in armament and military expenditure, it may lead to results comparable only to the millennium of peace and good will.

Now, therefore, I, William Cameron Sproul, Governor of Pennsylvania, do call upon all of our people, not only to observe Armistice Day as a time of thanksgiving for release from the terrors of war, but as Godfearing men and women to consecrate our best efforts, spiritually and materially, to encourage and assist those in authority in our Nation, and those associated with them from other lands, in working out the full purposes of the Disarmament Conference, and I suggest that not only on Armistice Day, but during the time intervening and especially upon the Sabbath preceding, that we, in our churches, in our homes, or elsewhere, be moved to pray devotedly that the spirit of God may guide our leaders and those assembled with them in the great discussion, and that the intercession of the Lord who alone may bridge the gulfs of prejudice and misunderstanding, may bring races and nations together and make all creeds and peoples abide hereafter in unity and universal sympathy and charity; that in a warless world the God-given bounties of civilization be spread for the benefit of all mankind for time eternal.

FINDS LOVE HAD FLED

Woman Crosses Sea To Find Husband Loves Widow.

Mount Carmel, Pa., Nov. 4.—To come all the way from Poland with her three children, the youngest of whom is 9, only to find her husband had lost his love for her and transferred it, as told in the court of Justice of the Peace William F. King, to another woman, is the experience that befell Mrs. William Luczinski.

According to the wife's story, Luczinski came to this country and settled in Mount Carmel more than nine years ago. After residing here four years, during which time he sent her money regularly for her support, he fell in love with a widow, one Mrs. Mary Ostroski.

Wondering why her husband failed to write or send money for her support Mrs. Luczinski came to this country and found another woman in the case. Meeting the widow in the case one afternoon Mrs. Luczinski attacked her and when arrested the time-worn love triangle was revealed.

He was knocked down and crushed, his skull being fractured at the base. Coroner Pollum conducted an investigation and absolved the driver of the car from negligence.

ident William A. Granville, who delivered an introductory address to the remarks of Dr. Smith. He told the audience that it was a Gettysburg graduate who founded Roanoke College. This boy was David Keller, who became its first president. The succeeding president of the school was also a Gettysburg graduate.

Dr. Smith was the next speaker and in an eloquent manner mingled with much humor told what the denominational college has done and is doing for the boys and girls of the present generation. Dr. Smith prefaced his remarks by saying that he was given the subject of "The Denominational College in Our Present Age" with all the latitude that he might care to use and that he was going to use this latitude chiefly in his address.

Talks of World Peace

"The men and women in the colleges today must be ready to take upon themselves the affairs of the nation in a short while," declared Dr. Smith, "and in order to do this and not be greatly influenced by the material things of life the principles of a true religion must be instilled in them while at college." He declared that to insure a lasting world peace, such a peace must be formulated by the god-fearing man in college today.

Dr. Smith expressed the belief that the delegates to the conference on disarmaments soon to be held in Washington were coming to the conference in a spirit of prayer so that wars may be completely banished from the earth. Dr. Smith closed his remarks with the hope that the Woman's League which has done so many fine things for Gettysburg will continue to work for the edification of the school.

Following the benediction by Dr. A. E. Wagner, a reception to the League was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Granville.

FORGER CAUGHT

Woodbury, N. J., Nov. 3.—Richard Otis, said by the police to be wanted in many cities on charges of forgery, was arrested yesterday at Elmer, near here. He was charged specifically with passing a worthless check for $150 at Swedesboro, N. J.

According to the authorities, the prisoner is wanted in Trenton, Newark, and Atlantic City, N. J.; Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg and Scranton, Pa., and a number of other cities in different sections of the country. His operations it is alleged aggregate more than $75,000.

STRONG LIQUOR THERE

Carlisle Soldier Declared He Could "Lick The Cop."

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 4.—When Private John Dilliot, a soldier stationed at the Carlisle Barracks, drank alcohol, vanilla extract, lemon extract, bay rum and other concoctions too numerous to mention last night, he became disorderly and wanted to "lick a cop". Policeman Ross Trimmer placed him under arrest. At a hearing before Under Sheriff W. H. Newsham yesterday morning he was committed to the county jail for twenty days.

Why I Am a Candidate for Associate Judge

I wish to explain to the voters of Adams County my reasons for coming before the people as a Candidate for Associate Judge even though I failed to get my name placed upon the Republican Ticket at the Primary election September 20th.

In the first place the office of Associate Judge is PARTISAN and I claim it is not square and fair to the voters of Adams county for a registered Democrat to file petitions in order to have his name appear on both party tickets or for a registered Republican to do the same thing.

Surely all right thinking people want to know where a man stands when they go to vote for him. They at least want to know if he is on one side or the other and not on the fence.

I am a registered Republican.

HOLD BACK RUTH'S MONEY

Share of World Series Not Paid Him.

Chicago, Nov. 4—Babe Ruth's share of the world series receipts, together with the shares of Bob Meusel and William Piercy, who accompanied him on the barnstorming jaunt, though warned they were violating baseball rules, remains unpaid, it was learned yesterday.

Distribution of the player's share of the series purse is directed by the commissioner, Judge Landis. When Judge Landis learned of Ruth's exhibition tour in defiance of orders, it is said, he sent word to the owners of the Yankee team of his intention to hold up the offenders' shares, and this report, it is said, might have caused Ruth to abandon his tour. Ruth, Meusel and Piercy each have claim for $3263.26. Twenty-five members of the Yankee team came in for full shares, and all have been paid with the exception of the three men.

Judge Landis' delay in making a decision in the Ruth case may be due to the fact that he holds this weapon over the players' heads, it has been stated. Those inclined to speculate declared that the Judge figures it a good plan to let the players think over the offense until they realize their mistake. They declare he will either punish them by withholding their pay or he will come forth with a statement denouncing the rule invoked, and give the men their money, together with a speech on respecting the rules of organized baseball.

HIGH MEETS ST. MARY'S ACAD.

High School In Good Condition For The Contest.

Gettysburg High School meets the fast Mt. St. Mary's Academy team, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Playground gridiron. The Mt. St. Mary's team is an unknown quantity this year, but they always had in the past a fast, hard fighting team. The condition of the High School squad is better than it has been for several weeks. Gordon appeared in uniform Thursday afternoon for the first time since he was injured in practice. He might be used in the contest Saturday, while Weikert may be lost for the remainder of the season on account of a bruised muscle. The lineup will be the same as last week, with Zinn in the backfield and G. Bream and Buehler at ends. R. Miller, Oyler and Raymond will be the other backfield men. Newman may be unable to take part in the game on account of having sprained both ankles last Saturday. This will be a big loss to the line. A. Musselman more than likely will take his place in the lineup.

Gettysburg defeated this team two years ago on their own field at Emmitsburg by the score of 7-0. With the College team playing at York, this should attract many lovers of football to the Playground.

FOOTBALL POSSIBILITIES

East Would Like To See West in Action.

Kipling's declaration that "East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet," may have been all right when he wrote it, but he would have to revise it today.

East and West have met on several gridirons this season, and there is strong probability of their meeting even more frequently in the future.

Not only will Princeton line up against Chicago again next year, but there is much talk of Illinois securing a place on the Harvard schedule and a possibility that Howard Jones may take his Iowa team East to meet his brother Tad's team in New Haven. The Notre Dame-Army game has become a fixture, and from present indications there will be other contests of the same order.

We should like to see every eleven in the East schedule a game with a Western opponent. Of course, there is the matter of expense to be considered in the case of smaller colleges, but football has become such a popular sport that it looks as if most of them could at least break even in such a battle. The interest in inter-sectional battles always is high. The East certainly would like a chance to see in action such eleven as Wisconsin, Ohio State, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Northwestern and others of the same class.

MATHEWSON CHEERFUL

Buoyed Up Through Presentation of Baseball Fund.

New York, Nov. 4—Christy Mathewson, who several days ago received a $30,000 check, proceeds of the "Matty Testimonial" baseball game at the Polo grounds September 30, declared in a letter to New York friends yesterday that the gift had given him new fighting powers. The former pitching star has been fighting tuberculosis at Saranac Lake. "Whenever little 'glooms' try to pay me a visit," wrote Matty, "I can chase them away by thinking of my good true friends. I am going to fight harder than ever to get well."

"BO" McMILLIN TO WED

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 4—"Bo" McMillin, star of the Centre College football eleven, is to be married to Miss Marie Mier, of Tulsa, it was announced yesterday. McMillin last Saturday plowed through the Harvard line and ran 31 yards for a touchdown, thus administering the first defeat to Harvard in five years. The marriage will take place this week at Danville, Kentucky.

MORE FILM FINES

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 4—A fine of $1,000 was imposed in the Federal court here yesterday upon Frank Flounoi, of New York, an associate of Tex Rickard, for bringing into Ohio films of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, in violation of Federal law. Flounoi pleaded guilty to the charge in the hope that the films may be shown in Ohio. Before being shown they must be approved by the state film censorship bureau.

HEAR REPORTS OF
ACTIVITY OF WOMEN

Afternoon Session Decides to Charter New Y. M. C. A.

In an address expressing optimism for the Woman's League in the future judging from what has been done in the past, Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson, president of the convention, at the Thursday afternoon session of the Woman's League, expressed the hope that the members would consider this building only a beginning of a series of ennobling works for the men of the College.

After a prayer by Miss Richer, Huntingdon, and a vocal solo by Carl Simon, of the Glee Club, the reports of the various committees and individual members of the League were heard. The executive committee reported that since the women wished to charter the new Y. M. C. A. building the name of the executive committee would have to be changed to the Board of Directors in order to procure a charter from the State.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $34,000 in the treasury, which is considered good. Reports were also heard from the corresponding secretary, historian, literature committee, registrar and the building committee. After hearing the report of the building committee the women in a body viewed the work on the new Y. M. C. A. building.

P. M. Willard, president of the College Y. M. C. A., also gave a short report of the work that organization is doing, after which Dr. C. F. Sanders pronounced the benediction.

WOMAN'S FAITH HELPS HUSBAND

"I owe my good health to my wife who had faith in a newspaper ad she saw of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I was down so badly with stomach and liver trouble after 15 years of suffering and trying every known remedy that I had no faith in anything. This medicine has certainly been a 'Godsend' to me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. BEFORE HEALTH BREAKS DOWN

Wise People Take Pepto-Mangan.
the Blood Builder

The prevention of sickness is one of the greatest works of the public health authorities. People are being taught how to take care of their bodies so that they can avoid sickness. In schools children are being taught hygiene. Serious illness can be avoided by proper care of the health. Pale faces, sickly bodies, loss of appetite and sleep, headaches and nervousness are usually signs of weak blood. With poor blood, the body has no resistance. Disease germs have an easy time of it. People are learning the necessity of keeping blood in good condition. They take Gude's Pepto-Mangan when they feel run down. That keeps blood normal so that it can resist disease. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form at drug stores.

MRS. EMMA S. KINDIG

Republican Candidate for Director of the Poor

Littletown, Pa., Nov. 3d, 1921.

To the Voters of Adams County:—

This letter is to bring to your attention my candidacy for the office of Director of the Poor.

In the first place I want to assure you that I had no intention of being a candidate, until after I was convinced that one of the three Directors of the Poor should be a woman. Now that I am nominated I would like to be elected, and I respectfully ask you and others of your family to support me at the election on November 8th.

If elected, I shall devote myself especially to the care of the old women and children who are charges of the county; and I believe that my experience along these lines has fitted me to be helpful to those inmates and of value to the tax-payers of the county.

If elected, I shall use my best judgment in the selection, purchase and preparation of the kind of food which will be economical to the county, and at the same time nourishing and comforting to the unfortunates who are in the County Home.

My husband and I raised a family during the thirty years in which we farmed and my neighbors will certify that I have never neglected my home or my house work; and as the Board of Poor Directors meets but once a month, I could be a member of the board without neglecting any of my home duties.

If the voters should see fit to elect me, I would not try to control the Board of Poor Directors, but by advice and suggestions in relation to the care of the old women and children would endeavor to be of real assistance to the Board of Poor Directors.

Very truly yours,
MRS. EMMA S. KINDIG.

CORN HUSK CAUSES DEATH

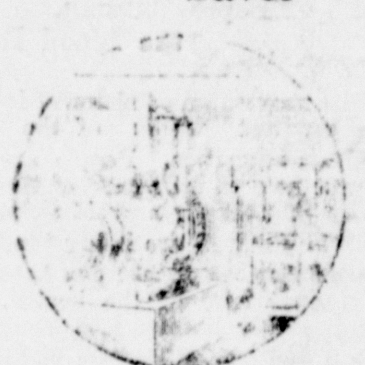

Farmer's Hand Pierced, Blood Poisoning Follows.

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 4.—His hand pierced by a piece of corn husk one week ago, Grant Hauck, 54 years old, of Lebanon, died early yesterday. Lockjaw, according to physicians, was the cause of death.

Hauck injured his hand while helping to husk corn in a field on his farm near here. The injury was not considered serious and consequently was disregarded. Several days later the infected hand began to cause him severe pain, and he visited his physicians. His condition gradually grew worse until he died yesterday.

AUTOS KILL 9,000 IN YEAR

Washington, Nov. 4.—Deaths from accidents caused by automobiles and other motor vehicles, excluding motorcycles, increased decidedly in 1920, as compared with 1919, the Census Bureau has announced. The deaths due to motor vehicles last year averaged within the death registration area of the United States 10.4 per cent per 100,000 population, as compared with 9.4 per cent in 1919.

Approximately 9,000 persons were killed last year by motor vehicles in the death registration area, which comprises 82 per cent of the population of the United States. The bureau's figures, however, show that the automobile is not nearly as dangerous as it was in its early days. In 1915 there were two deaths to every 1,000 motor vehicles, while last year the ratio was 1.2 per cent.

Autumn will bring you no regrets if your house, barn and other buildings are covered with the proper kind of roofing.
